Emmy-nominated actor, Peter Reckell single-handedly changed the face of daytime television with his creation of "Bo Brady," the motorcycling rebel on NBC's number one, longest running daytime program "Days Of Our Lives". Reckell will greet fans, sign autographs, pose for photos and support the environmentally-friendly CAMPLITE travel trailer line by LIVIN LITE RVs, as he takes possession of a CAMPLITE model custom built for him on Sunday, June 26.

Reckell will help raise awareness for the all-aluminum constructed trailer at the appearance which will run from 1-3 p.m. at the LIVIN LITE factory in Wakarusa, Ind.

A devout environmentalist – bicycles, electric cars, conservation and recycling are a daily part of Reckell's life, and he can often be seen pedaling to work. His love of nature and concerns for the environment motivated him and his wife, singer Kelley Moneymaker to tear down their home and build an eco-friendly, fuel-efficient, solar-powered home, shipping the remains of their previous home to Mexico for reuse by Habitat for Humanity.

The LIVIN LITE eco-friendly CAMPLITE trailer is made entirely of aluminum and composites and contains no pressed woods or wood of any kind, making it 98-percent recyclable. One of the best features of the CAMPLITE trailer is that it is actually so light that it saves an exorbitant amount of gas because it can be pulled by almost any vehicle, LIVIN LITE said.
